

TRAINING ON MSQH STANDARDS INTO PRACTICE:

NURSING SERVICES FOCUS TRAINING

18th August 2026 (08:30 am - 04:30 pm)

Dewan Aminuddin Baki, Wisma Sejarah (Onsite)

OVERVIEW

This one-day training equips nurse leaders and frontline nurses to translate MSQH Accreditation Standards into practical nursing service delivery. Covering the five core Nursing Services standards—Organization and Management, Human Resource Development, Policies and Procedures, Facilities and Equipment, and Safety and Performance Improvement Activities—the session guides participants to embed continuous readiness into everyday practice.

The training also highlights key cross-cutting standards routinely assessed during patient care unit surveys, including patient-centered care, medication management, infection prevention and control, emergency preparedness and fire safety, and environmental safety. Participants will learn how to maintain compliant documentation, ensure safe clinical environments, and deliver patient-centered care that aligns with MSQH expectations for sustained accreditation readiness.

OBJECTIVES

- Prepare appropriate and credible evidence of compliance to demonstrate alignment with MSQH standards during accreditation surveys.
- Apply the MSQH Nursing Services standards and relevant cross-cutting requirements to ensure continuous survey readiness in daily nursing practice.
